Maple Sweetness Long Drawn Out and Pulled About at Abner's.

The Hall Handsomely Decorated for the Occasion-Notable. Vermonters Present.

What the Old State and Her Sons Have Done for the District.

The annual "sugaring off" of the Vermonters resident in Washington, which took place last night at Abnor's hall, was as pleasant an affair as has occurred bere for a twelvemonth. The dancing hall was prettily decorated with flags and flowers, with hanging baskets pendant from the ceiling, singing birds in cages, and beautiful Vermont girls. The spacious dining saloon was filled with tables well spread, and after 10 o'clock every table was filled with hungry Vermont girls. The subterranean regions of the kitchen were filled with kettles of boiling sugar and experienced Vermont sugar makers; and every one who attended was filled with satisfaction and maple

President Arthur was expected to be pres-

President Arthur was expected to be present during the evening, but, much to his regret, circumstances prevented his attending the annual reunion of his native state.

In order that there should be no slip up as to the maple sugar being melted to a proper consistency and not burned, Mr. Willard and some of those who had in the days of their youth had large experience in this respect went themselves into the subterranean recesses of the kitchen and superintended the operation. It was a novel sight to see these gentlemen in full dress suits directing the movements of the men in their shirt sleeves, who were stirring with big ladles the liquid sugar, but their supervision resulted in all the sugar, but their supervision resulted in all the sugar being melted without any of it being burnt, and when it was brought to the table and placed on the blocks of ice the maple wax was complete.

Among those who were present were:

Probably the Vermonter who has been most thoroughly identified with the district, is Mr. Henry A. Willard, who has been a resident of this city since 1849, and whose name is inseparably connected with Willard's hotel, which is owned by himself and Mr. Joseph Willard, and who has been always active in every movement which looked toward the advancement of the national capital. When the old board of health was organized, which effectively kept cows and hors from running at the old board of health was organized, which effectively kept cows and hogs from running at large in the streets as they had done, the bill providing for which was suggested by Mr. Willard and carried through congress almost entirely by his personal efforts, he was the first member appointed, but declined the position. When the territorial government was created he was tendered the comptrollership of the district, but refused to accept. His appointment upon the board of public works was made without his knowledge, and it was only by the earnest solicitations of his friends and his fellow members of the board that he was induced to assume the position. Under the induced to assume the position. Under the present government he has repeatedly been urged for the position of commissionership, but invariably declined to be a candidate. Mr. Willard had always advocated the improvements in Washington, being the first to inaugurate parking in our streets, and has inaugurate parking in our streets, and has been foremest in advancing the interests of the city, but preferred to live an unofficial life.

sentative Vermonter in the district.

The Green Mountain state, though small in area and sterile as to soil, has played no unimportant part in the history of the country from the days of the fearless and intrepid Ethan Allen, the here of Ticonderoga, down to the present time, when one of her sons occupies the presidential chair and another was just before the adjournment of congress elected vice president pro tempore. Many men who have been subsequently claimed by other states owe their birth to Vermont, and perhaps the greater portion of Green mountain sentative Vermonter in the district. perhaps the greater portion of Green mountain boys who have won distinction have been those who have gone out from their native state and sought their fortunes elsewhere. Not to speak of many names which have passed into history, but to mention those who are at present identified with the district, it may be said that Commissioner of Pensions Dudley and Public Printer Rounds were both born and received their early education in Vermont. Hon. Asa O. Aldi, of the Franco-American claims commission is a Vermonter, and was formerly one of the justices of the supreme court of that state. Gen. Stuart Van Vleit, quartermaster general, was born and educated in the state of Vermont, and the same is true of Deputy Second Comptroller
J. S. Delano. Maj. Merritt Barber, assistant adjutant general on duty in the War department, was appointed to the regular army for faithful services in the Vermont volunteers during the war.

Mr. John R. Thompson, who has been president of the local state association since its organization, is chief of an important division in the third auditor's office, laving entered that office after serving in a Vermout regiment during the war, and Mr. M. A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

As I am frequently asked by dealers and others how I get hold of so many bargains in Standard Second-hand PLANOS and ORGANS, and how I often have new INSTRUMENTS at less than manufacturers wholesale prices, perhaps a public explanation is in order.

I. My reputation is thoroughly established for having the CASH to perchase any bargain that is offered, so it follows that when persons are leaving the city and want to sell they come to manufacture the cashing for the perchase any bargain that is offered, so it follows that when persons are leaving the city and want to sell they come to man are leaving the city and want to sell they come to the persons are leaving the city and want to sell they come for the persons are leaving the city and want to sell they come for the persons are caving the city and they are the persons are they are the persons exchange for new ones—Square r and of the Uprights.

3. I have a buyer at the manufacturing center, which the manufacturers can consult with a satisfactory result if they are a little short on pay day. The following is a few out of many Special Hargains now on payled the satisfactory of the satisfactory o innui. No. 1—A Piano Mado to order for an ex-Cliy Marshal at a cost of $800, with elegant embroidered cover and stool: price, $250; worth $250.
